

Dear Colleagues and Friends

Due to the overwhelming request from colleagues and friends, we are pleased to announce that the full paper submission deadline for APVC2021, Qingdao has been extended for two weeks to Wednesday, 14th of July, 2021. We strongly encourage those have not submitted the full paper to do so before the extended deadline. For people who choose to submit the abstract only, they are welcomed to make their presentation at the APVC2021 conference. However, they may miss the opportunity to have their papers recommended for the inclusion in the special issues of the three SCI journals affiliated with the APVC2021 conference.
